

Static site guarding & mobile patrol service

BS7499:2013 provides recommendations for the management, staffing and operation of organisations that offer security guarding services on a static site and/or mobile patrol basis.

This is suitable for organisations providing and installing security and alarms services, security service training officers and those responsible for a building's security systems.

BS7499:2013 does not apply to all security services and excludes: cash-in-transit services, secure parcel services, key holding and response services, door supervisors, close protection services, event stewarding and the management and operation of CCTV.

The British Standards which cover these areas of security services are also available to be accredited to by IQ Verify, including BS7858: Security screening of individuals employed in a security environment.

Attaining BS7499:2013 helps qualify your organisation for Business Licencing, demonstrating to the Security Industry Authority (SIA) that your business can competently provide static site guarding & mobile patrol services.
